

SAIIC Visitor Program

Blanca Chancoso, Quichua from CONAIE in Ecuador, Amadeo Ramos, Nahuat from ANIS in El Salvador, and Lucy Traipe, Mapuche from AD-MAPU in Chile, during their visit to the Tesuki Community in New Mexico in November of 1987.

SAIIC's Visitors Program invites Indian people from South and Meso-America to visit the U.S. The goals are to speak to human rights, solidarity and church organizations, as well as to the general public about the situation in those areas from the Indian point of view. Also, the visitors make contact and strengthen solidarity among Indian people. If you want to support or sponsor some presentation in the area where you live, please contact us.

SAIIC/Intertribal Friendship House
523 E. 14th St.
Oakland, CA 94606

Cover photo:

KISAN POR LA PAZ guerrillas standing on their office porch in Puerto Cabezas, Nicaragua. KISAN is an armed Miskitu force which has embraced the autonomy process and is cooperating with the Sandinista government in a mutual search for regional peace.

Marvin Collins © 1988

